A WORD ABOUT CHEAP ROSES

The rose growing section of Texas will produce about fifteen million rose plants this season. Of this number about one-fourth will grade No. 1 plants; the remaining three-fourths run No. 1½, No. 2, No. 3 and culls. You no doubt have been bombarded with price lists on Texas roses, offering rose plants advertised as No. 1 Two-Year Field Grown roses at 6¢, 7¢ and 8¢ each. When you send your order to dealers offering these low prices, just remember you will get no more than you pay for. Good No. 1 rose plants cannot be sold for such a price; don't expect it.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

A story is told of a country boy who was leaving the old farm to try his fortune in the city. His father, a poor man, but with a lot of horse sense and practical experience, said to him, "Son, you are going out into the world to make your way, I want to give you just one piece of advice: IF ANYBODY OFFERS YOU SOMETHING FOR NOTHING, TAKE JUST AS LITTLE OF IT AS YOU CAN"

The boy remembered that, and prospered.

EVERBEARING TEXAS FIG

This is the most wonderful fig we have ever seen. The real truth about this fig sounds like a "fish story". It will stand more cold than any other variety: even when it freezes back it will come back the following summer and produce a good crop of figs; many as large as hen's eggs, and we actually mean that many of the figs are that large. We have seen young plants, put out as cuttings in April bear 18 to 24 figs within 90 days after planting. One grower, near Arlington, Texas, sold $900 worth of figs from one acre during one summer. Without exaggeration, it really is a wonder.
